MANAGING YOUR CONTINGENT AND PROJECT-BASED WORKFORCE IS A FULL-TIME RESPONSIBILITY. BEELINE MAKES IT EASIER AND MORE COST-EFFECTIVE THAN EVER.

More and more organizations are relying on the use of contingent and project-based labor to complement their permanent workforce. The increased use has stemmed from a variety of factors including economic uncertainty, skill shortages and individuals choosing to enter the workforce through alternative methods. With this trend expected to continue, it is imperative that organizations have full visibility into all segments of their workforce.

As a recognized leader in flexible workforce solutions, Beeline offers a streamlined and optimized way for Fortune 500 and Global 1000 organizations to manage their contingent and project-based workforce.

BEELINE VMS

Beeline's VMS automates the process of engaging contract workers. It is an Internet-enabled, web-based application delivered through a software-as-a-service model. Beeline's VMS automates the process of acquiring and managing contingent labor, time and expense and consolidated invoicing. Beeline's VMS provides significant improvements in reporting and analytics capabilities that far outperform manual systems and processes. The Beeline VMS is typically operated by the Beeline managed services team, an external managed service provider, by the vendor on premise or internally within an organization by a vendor management office. Beeline's VMS has a simple navigation with an organized, logical layout. Beeline's VMS anticipates key questions and provides embedded analytics to provide real-time information at critical points in the recruiting process to facilitate better decision making.

SERVICES PROCUREMENT

Beeline's Services Procurement solution is a key component of an optimized flexible workforce that provides the software to control and manage expenses related to projects and services. Beeline's Services Procurement automates the RFx, Statement of Work and project lifecycles while providing the flexibility to manage all components, including RFx initiation and Statement of Work management, invoicing and payment. Beeline's Services Procurement provides full visibility to the project process including the management of resources, milestones, critical dates, deliverables, approvals, funding, invoicing, and payment.

SMARTVIEW® ANALYTICS AND INTELLIGENCE

SmartView reconciles the vast collection of flexible workforce program data points in one place, with one powerful interface. Data points may be comprised of spend, savings, candidates, requests, offers, contracts, rate cards, cycle times and demographics. SmartView contains a large set of pre-built analyses, enabling users to view and analyze their data without having to write queries or build tables. SmartView is used to identify trends, manage risk and uncover cost savings opportunities.

MANAGED SERVICES

Beeline's Managed Services organization is a strategic team that takes ownership of an organization's overall flexible workforce program, including the Beeline software modules used to manage the program. Managed Services includes innovative consulting solutions related to cost savings strategies, risk mitigation, supplier compliance, business assessments and rate analysis. As a trusted advisor, Beeline provides recommendations from implementation to steady-state and beyond in order to effectively regulate the program.

Beeline's comprehensive flexible workforce solutions can help you get more out of your workforce by providing insight, visibility and expert consultation. For more information, visit beeline.com.
